

A day in Sid's life.

Sid, Dave's cat, lives in the Prestons' (1-Prestons) house. He usually sleeps (2-schlafen-gewöhnlich) in Dave's (3-Dave) room under his bed. When Dave gets up (3-aufstehen) at [6.50] ten to seven (4-[in Worten]) in (5-) the morning, Sid sleeps (6-schlafen) ten more minutes. Then he gets up, too, and waits (7-warten) under the breakfast table, because Dave sometimes gives (8-geben-manchmal) him something good from the breakfast table. When Dave is at (9) school in the morning, Sid often explores (10-erkunden-oft) the neighbours' (11-Nachbarn) gardens for mice (12-Mäuse). He is sometimes (13-sein-manchmal) lucky and finds (14-finden) a mouse and eats (15-fressen) it. Sid usually comes (16-kommen-gewöhnlich) back home at eleven (17-elf) o'clock (18-Uhr) and sits in front of Mrs Preston's (19-Mrs Preston) surgery, because Mrs Preston looks after (20-sich kümmern um) pets with a problem. Sometimes a neighbor brings (21-bringen) a nice young cat to the surgery, because this cat needs (22-brauchen) help. That's how Sid always finds (23-finden-immer) nice girl friends. In the afternoon he always goes (24-gehen-immer) to this cat's house and miaows under/in front of (25-) her window. When she comes out, he takes her (26) to a garden and shows (27-zeigen) her how she can find a mouse. That's why many cats love (28-lieben) Sid. When Dave comes home from (29-) school and does (30-) his homework, Sid often watches (31-zuschauen-oft) him. In the evening Sid usually sits (32-sitzen-gewöhnlich) in the Prestons' (33-Prestons) living room and watches (34) TV with them. Sid loves (35-lieben) TV films with cats, mice or budgies. He goes (36-) to bed with Dave and sleeps (37) under Dave's bed. The Prestons (38-Prestons) are a wonderful family for (39) pets. So Sid has got/lives (40) a wonderful life in the Prestons' (41-Prestons) house.