

Some-any

Well, there are some small shops in town.
Maybe I can buy some CDs there.
But I've got some euros.

But there aren't any really good shops.
Well, I haven't got any English money

Are there any CD shops in Chester?
Have you got any money, Julia?

I've got some fantastic things in my room:
I've got some posters on the wall.
I've got some books on my shelf.
I've got some DVDs next to my computer.
I've got some CDs on my CD-player.
I've got some computer games.
I've got some computer magazines.
I've got some tennis rackets.
I've got some tennis balls.

I haven't got any old things in my room.
I haven't got any old records.
I haven't got any old cassettes.
I haven't got any old children books.
I haven't got any old school copybooks.
I haven't got any clothes on the floor.
I haven't got any stinking socks on the bed.
I haven't got any old paper on the desk.
I haven't got any old clothes in my wardrobe.
