

The s-Genitive

Lady Grey's pet is a cat.

The cat's name is Pepper.

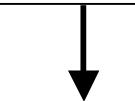

The detective's name is Mr. Groans.

Mandy's pet is a hamster.

The hamster's name is Harry.

His owner's name is Mandy.

Mandy's brother is a problem.

Singular

Ist der “Besitzer” im Singular, steht der Apostroph vor dem 's': Mandy's pet

All my teachers' names are funny.

The two cats' tree is in the park.

His two dogs' basket is in his office.

The three hamsters' cage is small.

The three hamsters' names are Harry,
Barry, and Sally.

Bob is the three hamsters' problem.

Plural

Sind der “Besitzer” im Singular, steht der Apostroph nach dem s': the two cats' basket.