Groans finds Pepper again
(Fill in the verbs in the Simple Past)

Last week Lady Grey called (1_call) Sherlock Groans and asked (2_ask) him to find Pepper again. She talked (3_talk) to him on the phone: "My dear Mr. Groans, please help me to find Pepper."

Sherlock Groans tried (4_try) to help her and hurried (5_hurry) to the park. There he walked (6_walk) across the bridge of the river. He stopped (7_stop) there and looked (8_look) into the water. But the cat wasn't (9_not be) there.

Then he hurried (10_hurry) into the woods and looked for (11_look for) the tree where Pepper usually was (12_be). Groans climbed (13_climb) on the tree and looked (14_look) around, but the cat wasn't (15_not be) there. So Groans climbed (16_climb) down again and walked (17_walk) around a bush, but he bumped (18_bump) into a tree. What a surprise! There were (19_be) two cat on a branch in the tree. Groans whispered (20_whisper) to them: "Hello, my dear friends. Pepper, are you there? I'm your friend Sherlock. Come to me." One cat answered (21_answer) with a soft sound: "Miaow, miii-aa—oow." Then Pepper climbed (22_climb) down to him and jumped (23_jump) into his arms. Groans patted (24_pat) her and rubbed (25_rub) her behind her ears. "You're a very good cat, Pepper. Let's go back to Lady Grey." Then he carried (26_carry) her back to Lady Grey. She was (27_be) so happy to have Pepper back and played (28_play) with her and patted (29_pat) her. The cat enjoyed (30_enjoy) that very much and then jumped (31_jump) down to her bowl, because she was (32_be) very hungry and wanted (33_want) some cat food. Lady Grey laughed (34_laugh) and opened (35_open) a can of cat food. She filled (36_fill) Pepper's bowl. The cat was (37_be) happy and emptied (38_empty=leeren) the bowl in three minutes. Now the cat and Lady Grey were (39_be) happy and smiled (40_smile).
